

New Celebrity Couple: Amy Poehler Is Dating Lawyer Benjamin Graf

By Whitney Johnson

Sorry, guys: It looks like one of our favorite funny ladies is off the market. Parks and Recreation actress Amy Poehler is dating New York City-based lawyer Benjamin Graf, according to UsMagazine.com. The outlet reported that the celebrity couple were first spotted hiking together in Los Angeles in May of last year. This relationship isn't the comedian's first one since her 2012 celebrity divorce from Will Arnett. She was previously linked to actor Nick Kroll, but their conflicting schedules led to their break-up. Here's to hoping that Poehler's new love with Graf brings her a lot of laughs!

This comedian has found her match – for now, at least! What are some unique ways to search for someone you’ll connect with?

Cupid’s Advice:

Sure, it’s tempting to head to your favorite restaurant or bar when you want to meet someone new, but Cupid encourages you to think outside the box in your search for love. Follow this relationship advice if you’re looking for a unique way to find a potential partner:

1. Download a dating app: Finding love can be as easy as playing with your phone! Thanks to apps like Tinder, Bumble, and Coffee Meets Bagel, meeting someone special is just a swipe or click away.

Related Link: Celebrity Couple Amy Poehler and Nick Kroll Call It Quits

2. Go on a blind date: If your BFF has been begging to set you up with her boyfriend’s cute co-worker, it’s time to say yes. After all, what do you have to lose? Even if the date’s a total failure, you’re at least opening yourself up to the possibility of meeting Mr. Right.

Related Link: Will Arnett Files for Celebrity Divorce from Amy Poehler

3. Take a class: You’ll never meet someone new if you’re always sitting on your couch. Grab a girlfriend and sign up for a cooking class at your local Whole Foods. If you end up sitting next to a hot, single guy, great! And if not, at least you’ll know how to make a delicious meal or two whenever you do find someone special.

What's a unique way to meet a potential partner? Share your best dating advice in the comments below!