Scarlett Johansson is starting the year off on a rough note: UsMagazine.com reported that the actress is splitting from French journalist Romain Dauriac, her husband of two years. The celebrity couple went public with their relationship in November 2012 and announced their engagement in September 2013. They welcomed their daughter Rose the following year and wed in a secret celebrity wedding in October 2014. Unfortunately, this divorce isn't the first celebrity break-up for Johansson. The Captain America: Civil War star split from Ryan Reynolds in 2011 after three years of marriage.

It's unfortunate that this celebrity break-up has become a reality. What are some things you can do in your relationship before resorting to divorce?

Cupid's Advice:

With news of this celebrity break-up, another famous couple is calling it quits, but before you and your partner resort to divorce, know that there are ways to determine whether or not your relationship is worth saving. Check out our love advice below:

1. Talk to a therapist: Sometimes, it's nice to have a neutral third-party listening when you're discussing your biggest problems. They may be able to help you see a situation in a new light, encouraging you to give your partner another chance.

2. Date your partner again: It's common for longtime couples to get caught up in the hustle and bustle of everyday life and forget what brought them together in the first place. Instead, make an effort to date your spouse again. Leave your phone at home, forget about your work or family troubles, and just focus on each other.

3. Think about what you want: It's time to define what you want from your marriage and your partner. Talk to each other about your hopes for your relationship and see if you can truly make things work. Filing for divorce is a big step, and you want to be sure it's the only option before you move in that direction.
