There could be another celebrity wedding in the works! What are some ways to know you’re ready for marriage?

Cupid’s Advice:

People always ask when is the right time to get married, but relationships aren’t monolithic. Instead you should ask yourself what signs show you’re ready for a lifetime partnership. Here are three relationship milestones to consider before you agree to be someone’s other half:

1. When ‘I’ becomes ‘we’: In the early dating phase, you’re content with your independence. Thinking of the future usually goes along the lines of “I’m going to do XYZ, and no one can stop me.” But the second you find yourself including your partner in your future plans it’s no longer all about you. Desiring someone’s companionship and input long-term are traits that show you’re ready for serious commitment.

2. Compromise is second nature: Marriage is all about compromise. It requires tying yourself down to one person, which can be tricky if you have differing philosophies and lifestyles. However, the ability to give and take is a relationship skill that all great marriages have mastered. If you're able to negotiate with your significant other, then chances are you're both ready for the long haul.

3. Don't feel like you're missing out: Cold feet can happen, but your concerns shouldn't be centered around all the potential partners you might miss out on. If you're suffering from FOMO, then you're not ready for marriage. But if the idea of coupling up with someone permanently doesn't bother you, then marriage is right for you. Your future spouse will definitely appreciate your dedication!
