Cupid's Advice:

Becoming a parent can be exciting and also a life long lesson in itself. Try sharing these lessons to your own children:

1. Be patient with the things you truly want: This lesson may be hard to practice even as a new parent, but it's one lesson your child needs to know. Help them understand that instant gratification does not apply to everything they do. Explain that certain things take time to learn and receive. These lessons will help them appreciate hard work and the concept of waiting.

2. Rejection and failure is bound to happen: Your child will be in many situations where social interactions or activities seem unfair to them. Whether it's not getting invited to a birthday party or losing a soccer game, it's important to let them know that more opportunities are ahead for them. Keeping your child optimistic during their childhood will give them ambition to reach their goals in life!

3. Stay kind to others: Some of those your child comes in contact with will have different lifestyles or learning abilities. Bad behavior on the playground may be rooted in their differences, so it is crucial to help your child understand and respect the differences in people. One-on-one play dates can allow children to come together naturally. It is one of the easiest lessons to teach your child, but you also have to practice this lesson as a parent!
