

Dating Advice: Maximize Your Online Profile to Attract the Right Man

On this week's episode of Single in Stilettos, founder and matchmaker Suzanne Oshima talks to relationship expert PJ Dixon to offer their best dating advice on creating an eye-catching online profile that will attract any man on the dating scene. Find out how you can adjust your single status with the following dating tips!

Dating advice on maximizing your online profile to find a man.

1. Name your wants. Your profile statement should not just be about you, but it should also list the kind of partner you're looking for. The statement should have conditions, provide details on what kind of action you want a date to take and clarify your reasoning for wanting these traits. At the end, you can include additional information so a man can get a better idea of who you are.

2. Add a point of contact Going out on a limb and contacting a stranger on the internet for a date can be a daunting task, so make it easy for a man to reach you by providing a point of contact on your profile. This gets rid of some of the awkwardness in the early stages of dating and allows you both to jump right in and get to know each other. Whether it be a phone number or email, just add something so potential suitors know you're a real person.

3. Pictures are important. Select about three or four photos where you look your best to add to your dating profile. Try to diversify your images to show your personality and attract the right man. Outdoor shots are good, but make sure you add front-on and dressy pictures that complement your figure. Casual shots with friends also don't hurt, but be aware that men are visual and may have wandering eyes for your good-looking friends.
