This celebrity news is totally full of drama. What are some ways to keep drama out of your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

This story has been filled with ups and downs, keeping us on the edge of our seat. With the constant drama going on, Corinne and DeMarco must feel their heads spinning. If you're looking to keep drama out of your relationship, check out some tips from Cupid:

1. Forget social media: At the end of the day, it's important to remember that your relationship solely consists of you and your sweetheart. When we're always posting on social media, an opportunity for people to criticize or create drama can most definitely arise. If you want to avoid drama, try to lessen your social media appearance by skipping out on constantly posting.

2. Keep it casual: Don't rush into anything serious, especially when the relationship is relatively new. Go at your own pace and keep things casual until they naturally become steady. If you or your lover are putting pressure on the relationship to make things serious (for example, moving in together or meeting the family too soon), this can create problems and that unwanted drama.

3. Keep the exes out of it: This should be a given for any healthy relationship, but be sure to keep your exes far away. Regardless of the circumstances, having your ex-lover as a consistent person in your life can only be trouble. It can spark trust issues, infidelities, and overall uncomfortable vibes that should just be avoid altogether.
