Cupid's Advice:

Getting engaged is a big and important step in a relationship. However, you may not be ready to share your big news with everyone around you. Here are a few ways to keep your new status quiet until the right time:

1. Stay off social media: When you and your partner get engaged, it's only natural to commemorate the event with photos. While you may be tempted to share photos or post subtle clues about your relationship, don't. Social media is the easiest way for your news to spread, whether or not you're ready for it.

2. Don't show off your ring: If you and your partner want to keep your relationship on the down-low, it is best to hide your ring. Your ring is a dead giveaway. So, when you are out in public it is best to keep it hidden, or take it off altogether.

3. Make it a private event: When people get engaged, it seems only nature to make a grand gesture. However, when you are trying to keep things quiet, it is best to keep your proposal simple and private. Instead of proposing at a big event, opt for an intimate dinner or romantic night in.
