Cupid's Advice:

The wedding season is all about you and your partner, so enjoy the time celebrating your partnership. Sometimes, though, wedding planning gets stressful and you need to reconnect with your partner to remind yourselves of the joy for this season. Here's Cupid's relationship advice for your wedding planning:

1. Reconnect: Amidst all the stress of wedding planning, it's easy to start getting frustrated with your future spouse. During these times arguments can start, creating doubt (cold feet) before the wedding. Taking time away to reconnect with your spouse will solidify your relationship and help remind you both why you're getting married.

2. Escape the stress: getting away means no wedding planning, which should mean no stress. Your wedding is about you, and at the end of the day, whatever you forgot or whatever goes wrong doesn't matter because you're married to the love of your life. As long as you have a great best man and maid of honor, you have nothing to stress about while you're gone!

3. Celebrate yourselves: In case the stress sucks you in, you need to remind you and your love what the wedding means. You're celebrating the love you have for each other and the faith you have in your relationship. Taking a mini vacay before the wedding can help you guys celebrate like you should be!
