Wearing high heels in the winter is not always worth the foot pain or cold feet – just ask Anna Faris. In the latest celebrity news, the Mom actress officiated her friend (and podcast co-host) Sim Sarna's wedding, and donned a pair of brown Ugg boots with her pink dress! According to EOnline.com, Faris posted a congratulatory memento to her Instagram account last week, wishing well to her pals. In the photo, Faris appears to be wiping tears from her face as her friends look at each other lovingly. Faris announced Sarna's engagement and that she would be officiating their wedding on their podcast, Unqualified. What a great friend!

This celebrity news shows us that sometimes comfort overpowers style. What are some style tips for staying comfortable for dressier occasions?

Cupid's Advice:

As awesome as it is to get dressed up, it's not always the most comfortable thing. If you're dreading an event because of the inevitable discomfort, Cupid is here to help:

1. Predict the mishaps: Nothing is more uncomfortable than getting blisters or cuts from wearing heels all night! Invest in blister bandages, and wear them before putting on those heels and leaving for the evening. Make sure to put a few extras in your purse or the back of your phone case, too. Predict the problem beforehand to prevent it from happening – it's a game-changer!

2. Have a backup plan: Don't let painful feet stop you from tearing up the dance floor! If you know you won't be able to wear your heels for longer than a half hour, bring a backup set of flats. (Or, just ditch the shoes all together if you don't mind dirty feet!) Your feet will thank you...we promise!

3. Wear what feels right: Comfort directly correlates to confidence: if you feel comfortable in your outfit, you will be more confident! Make sure to accentuate and play-up your favorite features. It's super important to wear what you feel good in – and if that happens to be sheepskin boots and a formal dress then go for it!
