This celebrity news has us clapping. What are some ways to get support when your partner's parents don't approve of you?

Cupid's Advice:

The only realistic expectations you should have should not be for anyone other than yourself. It is upsetting though if your partner's parents don't approve of you and your relationship. Don't worry- Cupid is here to help with some tips on how to put your best self forward to potentially make a better impression with your partner's parents:

1. Find out activities they like: Talk to your significant other and find out some things that their parents are into. Maybe boating, cooking, going on walks, etc. Then, reach out to them to do one of their favorite activities with them. This will seem like less of a “kiss-up” move since you’re not buying them anything, you are just simply creating a comfortable situation for them to truly get to know your amazing self!

2. Be blunt if they are: If your partner’s parents really make it clear that they are not a fan of you, be blunt and ask them sincerely what you can do in order to gain their trust. Communication is key. Ask and then make efforts to do what they feel is necessary as long as it is reasonable and does not interfere with changing who you truly are.

3. Show them how much you love their child: If they can’t get past who you are, and it is a struggle for you to see the good qualities in your partner’s parents as well, there is a genuine force that cannot be denied- the love that you have for your partner. Instead of trying to boost your self-image, make it clear how much you love and care for your partner. Their parents cannot be too upset with the fact that their child is getting the love and care that they deserve.
