This new celebrity relationship took Camila by surprise. What are some ways to remain open when in a new relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

New relationships need to be nurtured, but at the same time, you don't want to rush. Cupid has some dating advice on ways to be open in your new relationship:

1. Be honest: It is important to be honest in a relationship from the start. This is when you're building trust, and trust is earned by being righteous and truth-telling. It's always best to be upfront. If not, things tend to build up, causing problems and the both of you closing up and not being open with each other. Don't be afraid to share your feelings – just remember there's a difference between being a blunt person and a rude one.

2. Communicate effectively : It's important to try understanding as much as you want to be understood. Talk to your partner about your feelings in a straight forward and clear manner – no beating around the bush. Also, be aware of your body language and timing. Non-verbal cues give can give away a whole different meaning than you're trying to convey. As for timing, being aware is essential because sometimes situations transform into a worse one due to wrong timing.

3. Learn as much as you can about each other: As your relationship blossoms, so should the both of you. By getting to know one another, your relationship will evolve – the faster you do, the faster it blossoms. Not to say that you should rush, but there's not much harm in learning each other's ways at a rapid pace. When you learn someone's ways, you can be a better partner. In order for you both to learn from one another, you have to be open to it.
