There’s no truth to these celebrity divorce rumors! What are some ways to keep negative rumors from affecting your relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

Sometimes it is beyond our control when negative rumors start to arise in regards to your own relationship. The most important thing to do is stay calm and laugh at the silliness of these rumors. Although, it is important to make sure that this gossip doesn’t get into you and your partners heads. Here are some ways to keep negative rumors from affecting your relationship:

1. Show affection: Make sure your partner knows that there is no truth to these rumors. If there is a rumor going around that you and your partner are going to split, your partner may think that you might have told people that you want to break-up and that is why these rumors are going around. Although, that is probably not the case. Ensure that your partner feels secure despite these unsatisfactory lies that are stirring. Show them that you love them so much and all that matters is that you two know the truth.

2. Be open and honest: As we know, communication is key. Respond quickly. Before the rumors get to a very negative point, communicate the truth to the people you associate with. If you are open and honest in the first place, hopefully rumors won't even begin to occur. Sometimes though, people just honestly enjoy making up stuff. You can only do so much to prevent them.

3. Take the higher moral ground: Even though you and your partner may be upset about these rumors being spread, don't stoop to their level. It may be tempting to begin spreading other rumors because you feel upset that there are rumors being spread about you. This will just create more chaos and strain on your relationship and life in general. We cannot control what others do, but we can control our reactions. Be positive and remember that everything is going to be okay. As long as you and your partner love and support each other, these rumors should not be detrimental to your relationship.
