This celebrity baby news is somewhat tainted by the cheating allegations that came out about Khloe's man Tristan. What are some ways to shield your child from negative relationship turns?

Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes unsatisfactory aspects in your relationship can emerge out of the blue. It is important that these negative occurrences don't affect your child in a bad way. It is definitely beneficial for your child to come to terms with life and do realize that everything is not perfect, or else they could become too sheltered. But it could also serve detrimental if they are exposed to too much negativity. Here are some ways to protect your child against negative parental relationship trauma:

1. Never stop showing them love: Depending on how old your child is, they may or may not pick up on the relationship struggles you are going through if you do a good job at keeping it between you and your partner. But nevertheless, never stop showing your child love. Try not to be too over the top lovey dovey towards them because then it may seem like you're trying to compensate, and the love for your child, or anyone, should just be natural.

2. Don't let them in on too many details: Your child has a right to know what's going on in their parents' lives, but of course they don't need to know everything. If you and your partner are going through a relationship struggle, you can let your child in by saying something like "Mommy and Daddy aren't agreeing with each other lately but we are working on it." You don't need to tell them that one of you cheated or that you think you may be falling out of love.

3. Never let them lose sight of the wonderful things in life: You don't necessarily have to 'shield' your child from negative things in order for them to not come emotionally disturbed. You just have to remind them that yes even though these bad things may be happening right now, there are so many other magnificent aspects going on as well. Just look around, look at the beautiful trees, listen to the birds singing, think about the wonderful weekend you have planned to go to the beach or the amusement park!
