On behalf of Prince Harry and Meghan Markle, a Kensington Palace spokesman said on Monday, "This is a deeply personal moment for Ms. Markle in the days before her wedding. She and Prince Harry ask again for understanding and respect to be extended to Mr. Markle in this difficult situation.” According to EOnline.com, the statement is in response to Markle’s father announcing he would no longer be attending the celebrity couple’s special day.

Even when it comes to the royal celebrity wedding, family drama happens. What are some ways to keep family drama from affecting your big day?

Cupid’s Advice:

Even royals aren’t immune to family drama. Cupid has some tips of keeping family drama from affecting your wedding:

1. Establish boundaries: While we know pushy relatives are only trying to get involved in the wedding process because of how much they love you, it’s important to make it clear to your family that it’s your special day. Talk to your parents, in-laws and everyone else about how all decisions are ultimately up to you and your partner, even though you appreciate their input.

3. Remember it's your day: Sometimes, family drama is inevitable, no matter how hard you might try to prevent it. Take a deep breath and forget about any conflict that ensues and focus on the love you feel for the person you're marrying. Your wedding doesn't have to be perfect, just remember that you're celebrating true love!
