other.”

In celebrity news, this duo was rumored to have been dating at one point. How do you know if a friend has the potential to be more than that?

Cupid's Advice:

It's always said that you should marry your best friend. Why not be with the person who knows what you like, can tell when you are upset and just likes you for you? Cupid has some advice on knowing if your friend has the potential to be more:

1. Views: Before you jump into turning your friendship into a relationship, explore each other's point of views. Although friendships can evolve into relationships, it is important to make sure you are both on the same page. What are your beliefs? What do you think your friend will bring to the relationship? How does your friend feel about relationships? Being great friends is different from being a couple.

2. Future plans: Discussing the future is essential. Everybody has their own plans for the future. Jumping into a relationship with someone who won't compromise their future plans with you isn't a good idea. This will bring heart break and hurt feelings later. Discuss your future; although nothing is set in stone, remember as a couple, you are supposed to grow and be happy. While compromising is great, don't compromise your whole future if that's not what you really want. Don't force it.

3. Feelings: How are your feelings towards each other? Often people say they can't live without a specific person or thing that makes them happy. Is your friend someone you can't live without? Always trust your gut feeling. There is a lot at stake when you decide to turn a friendship into a relationship. Make sure the feelings are mutual because things could go left, quick. Are you ready to risk it all?
