Justin Theroux characterized his split from celebrity ex Jennifer Aniston as “gentle.” What are some ways to keep the animosity out of your break-up?

Cupid’s Advice:

Can a relationship end without animosity? Cupid has some tips to keep the break up amicable:

1. Talk through any issues: To end the relationship with no “hard feelings,” it is important to discuss any problems you might have with one another. Work through all your issues and make sure both of you are on the same page. You will be able to be friendly if both parties were able to calmly discuss any concerns.

2. Keep the details of the break-up between the two of you: Of course it is difficult to keep the details to yourself, because all of your family and friends will want to know what happen, but keep those private as it was something that happened just between you and your partner. You can share the gist with your support system, but you don’t want that person getting attacked for being part of the break-up, when they won’t fully understand the reasons behind the decision.

3. Don’t try to “win” the break-up: After the break-up, your sole focus is going to be yourself for sure. You can incorporate positive changes into your life, but don’t make it seem like you're thriving without the person right away.
