Cupid's Advice:

How can you introduce a new child to your household? Cupid has some thoughts:

1. Include your children in the preparation for the new baby: Let your current child or children see the ultrasounds or touch the baby bump. It will feel more real if they are going through the process with you, rather than just talking about a new sibling.

2. Have the new baby give a present: If the new baby's siblings are young enough, then receiving a gift from their new brother or sister will make them feel important. If the siblings are older, make the gift celebratory for becoming a sibling.

3. Give the other children jobs to do: This gesture can make your other children feel important, if they are involved in something that will benefit the new baby. They just want to be included, and giving them the opportunity to help with tasks, even something small, could help reduce fear of being forgotten or left out.
