Cupid's Advice:

Some couples embrace political differences, some don't care, and others consider having similar views non-negotiable. Cupid has some ways politics can affect your relationship:

1. Political differences: Not seeing eye to eye can at times lead to an opportunity of learning and growth. Having different opinions can enrich and sometimes positively affect a relationship. But sometimes political viewpoints can easily become personal and sensitive matters. Couples have been torn apart by different political viewpoints.

2. Believing your political view is the only correct perspective: A quick way to destroy a relationship when it comes to politics is to believe your way is the only way. Be open to your partner's perspective, because you don't have to like it, but you must agree to disagree. This goes with anything in life; you have to compromise.

3. Inability to respect someone different view: In a relationship, you share many differences. By not respecting your partner's view, you're ignoring how they feel, which is very disrespectful. To make a relationship work, you must respect your partner's views even if you don't like them.
