Why do we even use primer? Primer is something you put on before foundation for a more flawless and smoother look. It also makes your make-up last longer to help complete your beauty look. If you know the weather is going to be a little crazy, primer can help your make-up survive extreme weather. With a good primer, your look is already half-way done.

You can pick the perfect primer for your skin type and Cupid is here to ## help with beauty tips.

1. Pick your primer based on your skin's oil level: If you have oily skin, you'll want to choose a primer that is mattifying. This will soak up the skin's oiliness and make your skin look less greasy throughout the day. If you have more normal skin, you don't want a mattifying primer, instead look for an illuminating primer to give your skin the good kind of shine. If you have combination skin, you'll want a more neutral primer or use more than one kind of primer for different parts of your face.

2. Use your primer to correct skin flaws: You can choose a primer that has color correct so that it's doing two jobs at once: smoothing out your skin for foundation, and correcting any flaws for your foundation to have better coverage. If you have dull skin, look for a pink-tinted primer. If you have red skin, use a green-tinted primer. That way you can look sunkissed, instead of sunburned.

3. Always test out your primer before wearing it: Make sure your primer has the same base as your foundation so it goes on smoothly. If your foundation is oil-based, then your primer should be, too. If you have dry skin, you have to test out a few primers to find the best one for your skin. Ultimately, everyone should try to get a sample of a primer they're interested in so they can see what works for them.
