In celebrity couple news, Tyler is supporting his new love during a tough time. What are some ways to show your support for your partner amid tragedy?

Cupid's Advice:

Although they've only been together for a month, Tyler Cameron supported his girlfriend Gigi Hadid during an extremely personal and difficult time. Cupid has some advice to help you be there for your partner without overstepping:

1. Listen: When your partner is going through a difficult time, the best thing you can do is to just listen to them. If they need to vent or cry, offer a shoulder to cry on, but don't make the situation about you or how you're feeling.

2. Give them space: No one wants to be coddled when all they want is some alone time. Allow your significant other to work out their issues alone if they need to, but be sure to let them know that you're always there if they happen to need you. It might be difficult, but finding the right balance of space and support will make your partner feel less alone and not suffocated.

3. Be patient and understanding: The worst thing you could possibly do during a difficult time is to not be considerate of what your significant other is going through. It could take weeks or months for your partner to get back to the way they were before the tragedy, but if you show your support hopefully your relationship will come out of the difficult time even stronger than it was before.
