In celebrity news, Miley Cyrus is seemingly not amused with comparisons being done on her relationships. What are some ways to keep your past relationship from affecting your current relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Even though it is not traditional to jump from relationship to relationship, Miley is showing us that there is nothing wrong with doing so. Being a #HotGirl is a trending hashtag that is boosting everyone's confidence. This was made in the hopes that women would feel more comfortable in themselves and moving on from broken relationships. Cupid has some advice on how to use that hot girl energy when dating someone new:

1. Don't compare: Ladies, we all do this! However, if you are trying to move on with your new boo, don't compare the two! Try to look for similar qualities like chivalry and taste in music. Don't make your new bae your ex bae 2.0.

2. Do new things: Try not to relive the past through this person. Take them to new places, so you can make new memories. Show them your playful side! Jump out of a plane together, or get tickets for a concert of a band you've never seen live. Keep things new and fresh.

3. Be open to change: While you look for similarities between you and your new partner, also look for differences. They might not be your "usual" type of partner, but don't give up on them too easily. Try to compromise. If they are more introverted, plan your dates at a more personal level. Taking a walk while holding hands or baking a cake together are two low-key ideas. If they are more extroverted, then you won't have any problems finding out what they want to do. If they tell you what they want to do that's outside of your comfort zone, consider doing it anyway!
