Cupid's Advice:

It's okay to not know where your relationship is heading at the beginning stages. You could be really good friends, or you may develop feelings for each other. Cupid can help you with establishing if this might be love:

1. Connect with them: When you get to spend more time with someone, your connection grows deeper. The more time you spend with them, the better you get to know them. Finding out things like what their favorite food is and what movies they like to watch is a great way to bond with each other.

2. Start to hang out more: You and this person might just be friends, but if you start to hang out with him or her without anyone else around, it's a step toward something more. If he's picking up your favorite coffee for you or buying tickets to a play you wanted to see, it's proof he's looking to be around you more. If you feel like you're starting to get them to know them on a more personal level, then maybe this relationship is turning romantic.

3. Work well with them: When you bond with someone over hard work, your connection gets stronger. You're learning to work as a team to get something done, and that sense of accomplishment at the end of the day pulls you closer.
