Kendall Jenner is joking about becoming a celebrity parent. What are some ways to know you're ready to start a family with your partner?

Cupid's Advice:

What are the signs to look for when kids stop being just cute and you start fantasizing about having some of your own? Besides growing up being a big indication of wanting to start a family, you have to be prepared for all the highs and lows that parenthood brings. If you and your partner are unsure of starting a family of your own, don't worry! Cupid has some love advice for signs to look out for to know when you might be ready to have children:

1. Mutual eagerness: If both you and your partner are constantly excited and eager to have children, and you're financially well-established, this could be a sign that you're ready for a family of your own. It's helpful if you both have a mutual support system between the two of you alongside the excitement, as well. It'll help when the whirlwind of pregnancy and parenthood approaches.

2. Ability to take care of yourself: If you can't handle prioritizing and keeping yourself healthy, it might not be a good time to have kids. You must be able to take responsibility for another little life, and if you are great at making sure you have the necessities, you'll be a shoo-in for possibly having a child.

3. Acceptance of lifestyle change: Having a child means a dramatic upheaval of your life as you know it. Are you ready for that massive shift that comes with parenthood? Think about the impact of a baby in your day-to-day life. Think about any smoking or drinking habits you might have that would need to be changed. If you're more than ready to accommodate your lifestyle around parenthood, that can be a big indicator that you're ready for a family.
