if Kardashian is the reason they broke up, so that she and Disick can get back together.

These celebrity exes are keeping things way above and beyond friendly. How do you know if you're still hung up on your ex?

Cupid's Advice:

After a long relationship ends, it's incredibly easy to get held up on the idea that you guys might get back together. If you think you are still hung up on your ex, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Do you stalk them on social media?: If you constantly find yourself going to your ex's social media pages a few times a day, then you are definitely still hung up on them. Trying to look on their pages to see what they're doing, who they're hanging out with, and if they're seeing anyone else, just isn't healthy. Try deleting the apps from your phone to stop yourself from going to their pages. The longer you go without thinking about them, the better.

2. Do you still refer to them as your partner?: When you're talking to someone else about your ex partner and you refer to them as your boyfriend, girlfriend, husband, or wife accidentally, then you are still not over them. This can be really hard to correct, especially when you're fresh out of a relationship, but after a few months you should be looking to correct yourself. Have your friends and family point it out to you every time you say it. Or, you can use the swear jar method, expect only put a dollar in the jar when you refer to your ex as your partner.

3. You're not interested in dating again: If you find yourself not finding anyone attractive or not wanting to get back out there and go on dates, then you are still holding on to your past relationship. You don't want to go on dates because you're still in a "relationship" kind of head space, when you should be in a single state of mind. Try to get back out there in the dating world and go a little out of your comfort zone; consider someone completely different than your ex.
