In celebrity wedding news, Sienna Miller is in planning mode for her marriage to Lucas Zwirner. What are some ways to incorporate both of your personalities into your wedding day?

Cupid's Advice:

Your wedding should be a great day for both you and your spouse. It's easy to get caught up in your ideas on how the day should go, but it's just as much your partner's special day as it is yours. If you're not sure how to involve your future spouse in the wedding process, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Start on the same page: Set the tone for your wedding planning process. Let your partner know that their ideas are just as valid as yours and that you want their help. A good jumping-off point is making a list of must-haves for each of you and coming together to see what's most important to the other.

2. Put them in charge: Give your partner complete control over an aspect of your wedding. If they're passionate about music, let them make the decisions regarding the band or DJ. If you're in charge of other aspects of our special day, your partner should have the same experience.

3. Value their input: Let your partner voice their opinions. A good way to do this is to present your partner with your topic choices. Let them help you decide between your top three cake choices. Not only will it make the decision process simpler, it gives both parties input on an aspect of the wedding.
