Cupid's Advice:

Having a small wedding might be perfect for you. It's more intimate. It's cheaper. It's less stressful. The only downside is chopping down your guest list. If you're worried about your distant relatives and coworkers asking why they weren't invited, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Blame your budget: One way to curve these awkward conversations is by blaming your budget. Tell those that didn't make the guest list that your tight budget prevented you from inviting everyone you wanted to celebrate with you.

2. Blame your family: Another way to dodge this question is to bring up how you want your wedding to be intimate. Tell them that the guest list is made up of only your closest family members and your wedding party.

3. Blame your venue: When all else fails, bring up your venue. Tell those not invited that the venue you chose has limitations on how many people can attend and that you wish you could've invited more loved ones.
