Cupid's Advice:

When you've been married for a while rough patches are inevitable, but it's all about you work through them that will define the rest of your relationship. If you are looking for ways to work through a rough patch in your relationship, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Never stop loving them: Love is unconditional. That means your love is strong during the good times and the bad. Even during this difficult time, never stop loving them. This is easier said than done. You could be mad at your partner or feeling negatively toward them. In order for the relationship to work, the flame can't go out.

2. Remember the good times: During the bad times, it's always easy to be negative and feel resentment toward your partner, but you get what you put out into the universe. If you want the relationship to work out, start feeling more positive. The easiest way to do this is by remembering the good times. Maybe it was a special day, like your first date or a wedding day. Even focusing on what you love about your partner can also bring positivity.
