Cupid's Advice:

When we truly love someone, we often find it difficult to determine when a relationship is officially over. Despite the fact that staying together may now be causing one or both of you discomfort, it can be challenging to let go. If you are looking for signs that it is time to end your relationship for good, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Nonstop disagreement: It is obvious that a relationship isn't working when both people involved are fighting constantly. However, even nonstop small disagreements, such as never agreeing where to eat or what day to hangout, can be unhealthy in a relationship. While these mild disagreements may not be enough to warrant a break-up initially, they can lead to underlying tension or lack of communication if they are present in every conversation.

2. Lack of Excitement: If agreeing to an activity with your partner causes you to feel stressed rather than excited, it might be a sign that the relationship has reached its limit. It should never feel like an obligation to be around the person you love. If you find yourself dreading the idea of spending time with your partner, it is likely time to sit down for the conversation.

3. Consult your friends: While the relationship is taking place between you and your partner, sometimes it is necessary to get an outsider's perspective. Find a trusted friend that will have no problem being honest with you and ask for their feedback. This friend will likely see the signs long before you, and will have no problem telling you if you've been acting differently or getting irritated easily, which are often signs of a troubled relationship.
