Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes exes find their way back to each other only to form healthier, stronger relationships. If you are looking for some ways to decide if you should give a past relationship another chance, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Time has passed: After a break-up, it is necessary to allow enough time to pass before reaching out again with the hope of rekindling. It is likely that there were some large issues leading up to the break-up, and these will not be resolved overnight. By allowing each other enough time to learn and grow, your second try at the relationship may be more successful.

2. Emotions have calmed: In order for your rekindled relationship to work, you have to let go of any negative emotions surrounding the past attempt at dating. If you still feel yourself holding onto instances where your partner upset or angered you, it may not be the right time to give the relationship another try. Once these emotions have truly vanished, then you can consider a second try with your partner.

3. You've both discussed it: It is a mutual decision to give your relationship another chance. By having a conversation about the possibility of reconciling your relationship with your partner first, you will ensure that you are both on the same page. This will allow you to reenter the relationship with a stronger foundation than before and will help you two succeed in the future.
