Cupid's Advice:

There are many benefits to being in healthy and loving relationships, some of which may personally make you a better person. If you are looking for some ways a relationship can change you for the better, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. More responsibility: Relationships come with a lot of responsibilities, from maintaining open communication to tending to the feelings of your partner. By taking on some of these responsibilities when getting into a relationship, you will gradually become more mature and better equipped to maintain other relationships and friendships in the future. This ability to handle more responsibilities can also translate to other areas of your life, such as your professional life.

2. New social circles: The people that we choose to surround ourselves with can benefit or hurt us in the long run. Forming a new relationship can provide an opportunity to integrate new people into your social circle, which may lead to some more positive influences. Changing the people you surround yourself with can also provide an opportunity to stop falling back into old habits if it was something you shared with your past friends.

3. Positive outlooks: Healthy and loving relationships should provide you with more things to look forward to in life. A relationship can better you as a person by giving you more outlets for excitement, which in turn can make you a happier and more pleasant person to be around. The happier you are, the more positively you will see yourself as well.
