In celebrity break-up news, it's officially over between Julianne Hough and Brooks Laich. How do you know when your relationship is irreparable?

Cupid's Advice:

Trying to salvage a relationship can be tricky, so it's important to know when to call it quits. If you're looking for signs that your relationship is irreparable, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. You've already tried everything: If you're trying to decide if your relationship is able to be fixed, it's important to assess what you've already tried. If you and your partner have tried to fix things for quite a long time, or even tried therapy, and you find yourself exhausted because things still aren't working, it may be time to call it quits.

2. Your relationship has become harmful to one or both of you: Another sign that may help you know that your relationship is irreparable is if you find the relationship to be doing more harm than good to one or both of you. Once your relationship makes you and your partner unhappy often or has caused damage or harm to you, that is definitely a major sign that it may not be salvageable anymore.

3. You no longer trust each other: Another sign of an unfixable relationship is a lack of trust. Continuing in a relationship without trusting your partner will only cause more problems down the road, so if you have tried everything to rebuild trust, and you still can't rely on each other, your relationship may not be repairable at that point.
