In celebrity news, Taylor Swift gave fans rare insight into her relationship with boyfriend Joe Alwyn. What are some reasons to keep details about your relationship to yourself?

Cupid's Advice:

There is nothing wrong with wanting to keep some of the details about your relationship to yourself, whether it one that is relatively new or one you've been in for years. If you are looking for some reasons to keep details about your relationship to yourself, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Past traumas: If you've experienced some kind of public fallout from a break-up in the past, you may want to keep your future relationships more private. Sharing too much of your new relationship with the public could cause you to fear the same result if things end, which can add unnecessary stress to your current situation. Keeping this quiet and revealing selective details is a great alternative to sharing everything if you don't want to!

2. Work-life separation: If you have a relatively public career, you may desire to keep other aspects of your life private, such as your relationships. Having a private relationship while working in the public eyes is a great way of ensuring you don't feel like the public knows everything about your life, and takes the pressure off your partner if they are not used to their lives being incredibly public.

3. Value privacy: Some people simply value their privacy and do not want everyone else knowing the details of their relationship. This desire for privacy is a valid reason for keeping details of your relationship to yourself. Share what you wish to share, and keep the rest as details between just you and your partner.
