In celebrity news, it looks like Khloe Kardashian still trusts her man. What are some ways to know your partner is being truthful with you?

Cupid's Advice:

Although trust is a crucial part of any relationship, it can sometimes be hard to achieve. If you do not have trust in your partner, who will continue to face obstacles as the relationship progresses. If you are looking for some ways to know if your partner is being truthful, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. They communicate clearly: While constant communication is not needed to determine if someone is being truthful, clear communication is. If someone communicates openly with you about topics such as where they are going and how they are feeling, then there probably is no reason to worry about them lying. Red flags should only appear if the person is continuously giving vague answers or avoiding questions.

2. They acknowledge your concerns: Sometimes the only way to resolve a trust issue is to address your concerns with your partner. If your partner is willing to have a conversation that acknowledges your concerns and does not get defensive, then they are likely being truthful. However, having this conversation too often can sometimes cause someone to become offended if they need to keep defending themselves.

3. They haven't lied to you before: If you have never caught someone in a lie before, then there is likely no reason to worry about them lying moving forward. Relationships may experience periods of distance or decreased communication, but these are not necessarily signs that someone is being dishonest. Until it's proven, don't jump to conclusions about your partner being untruthful!
