

Celebrity Fashion Patrol – What Famous Celebrities are Wearing Now

When it comes to high fashion, nobody can rock it the way that a celebrity can. Yes, it's slightly unfair, but when you're in the public eye and you have the body, the poise, and, most importantly, the money (although most designers gift their clothes for free publicity) to flaunt the best fashion pieces, then it's only natural that designers would give their couture clothing to people who can help them get noticed.

Of course, everyone has their own taste. So, while one piece of clothing may look good on your sister it may not have the same results on your cousin. This is why there are so many celebrity comparison photos of "who wore it best." Superstars often employ fashion designers, planners, and stylists to counsel them on what to wear and how to wear it before spending thousands of dollars on these fashion pieces. Their glam squad also coaches and helps them decide what to wear in public and when. It's a huge business.

In this article, we are going to have a look at some of the most current celebrities gracing the magazine covers and check out exactly what they're wearing. Hopefully, this insight should help you to decide which style might look good on you.

Jennifer Lopez and Ben Affleck

These two lovebirds are rocking some of the best fashion pieces money has to offer. During the Venice Film Festival, the two on-again lovers basically arrived and stole the show. J-Lo was wearing "a white lace fit 'n' flare dress and Ben was in a standard black polo shirt. They canoodled in a luxe

You have to hand it to these two; they really know how to make an entrance. It also doesn't help that J-Lo was wearing a Georges Hobeika dress, Cartier High Jewelry earrings, bracelet, ring, and Jimmy Choo shoes. Later during the day, the lovers decided to have fun riding the speedboat, with Jennifer Lopez in some cool Prada sunglasses and a pair of Gianvito Rossi sandals.

Nicki Minaj
