

Lady Antebellum Singer Hillary Scott Ties the Knot

Congrats to Lady Antebellum singer Hillary Scott and drummer Chris Tyrrell, who are officially married, as of Saturday. The couple, who has been engaged since July, held a small ceremony in upstate New York in front of family and close friends, according to People. “We got married,” Scott, 25, said as she flashed a wedding ring in a video on Lady Antebellum’s website with her new hubby. “We just wanted you to hear it from us first. We love you. We’re so excited to be starting our life together and we just had to let you in on the exciting news.” Scott said she couldn’t be happier and loves having someone in her life who completely accepts her. “Everything is brighter. Everything has a deeper meaning. I’ve found a guy who truly embraces me for who I am and appreciates the things that I don’t necessarily love about myself.”

How do you know if your partner embraces you for who you are?

Cupid's Advice:

While most people say they accept their lover, it's sometimes can be difficult to believe it. Cupid has some ways to help you be sure:

1. Closeness: Ask yourself where your partner is whenever you're having a tough time. Someone who truly accepts you isn't fair weathered.

2. No judgement: Your significant other should be the person you confide in, and they don't hold what you say against you.

3. Return the favor: A person is more likely to accept you if they feel welcomed by you. Be sure to let your partner know how you feel toward them.
