What are some fun ways to celebrate spring with your partner?

Cupid's Advice:

Spring has finally come after a long winter, so get out and enjoy it with the one you love. Cupid has some tips to help you shake off your winter blues and get spring rolling:

1. Be active: Snow is melted and the sun is shining, so take advantage of what Mother Nature has to offer by planning an outdoor date. Rollerblading or going to play putt-putt where you can breathe in some of the fresh new air are great options.

2. Kick back: It's always nice to relax with the sun warming up your face and giving you a healthy glow, so plan a picnic with your partner somewhere where you can enjoy each others' company and take in the newly budding nature around you.

3. Re-accessorize: It's time to ditch those winter clothes and haul out your summer wardrobe. Hit the shopping mall with your partner, and load up on some new spring trend essentials.
