

Is Brad Womack Back for More 'Bachelor'?

After infamously dumping both DiAnna Pappas and Jenni Croft on the 11th season of The Bachelor, Brad Womack may be given a second shot at love. According to Us Magazine, Womack is being considered for the 15th season of the popular dating show. "Brad is very sincere and believes in the show," a source close to the series says. "That's why he didn't pick someone last time. He was never in it for the publicity. He wants to find a wife." Along with Womack, producers are rumored to also be considering bachelors Ty Brown and Chris Lambton for the show. The official word will be delivered today on Dancing With the Stars. The question is, who would you rather?

Does your guy have a fear of commitment?

Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes singles can find themselves still hurting from a past breakup or afraid to get out of their comfort zone and try something new. Cupid has a few tips on how to tell if your beau is afraid to find love:

1. He's hesitant to put himself out there: Although he's outgoing and has no problem having a good time, he seems unavailable for anything more than fun and parties.

2. He won't take the plunge: Is your guy refusing to meet your family? If so, he might be hesitating because he's leery of taking the next step in your relationship.

3. Worst-case scenario: If you've decided your beau truly has a fear of commitment, try to stay reasonable. Talk some sense into him by laying down the facts. Let him know that the worst that can happen is that you break up sometime in the future, but that the best that can happen is that you're incredibly happy together. It's a small risk to take when the result could be a lifetime of true love.
