The ex-couple made the announcement on April 12th which said, "Jane Seymour and James Keach confirm that they are separated and have been for several months. At this time they are negotiating the terms of their divorce." This was Jane Seymour's fourth marriage and James Keach's second. They have twin sons together John and Kristopher, 17. In regards to their children the ex-spouses state, "They will continue their relationship as devoted parents to their children, as business associates and partners, and in their joint dedication to preserving and furthering the charitable endeavors that they've worked on throughout their marriage."

How do you know when to call it quits in a long-term relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

You and your partner have been together for years, but things have been taking a turn for the worst. How do you know whether or not the relationship is worth fighting for, or if its time to call it quits? Cupid is here to help you decide:

1. Worth fighting for: Decide if the relationship is worth more blood, sweat, and tears. Is it worth fighting for? Think about whether it is worth the pain of fighting.

2. Talk to family and friends: Your friends and family have been onlookers during your rollercoaster ride of a relationship. Get their opinions. They will always want the best for you and will want to help you make the right decision.

3. Think about the future: Do you truly see a future with your partner? If you can not see yourself being with them in the future then it is no worth trying to fix the relationship. It may be time to call it quits and move on.
