

Celebrity News: Zoe Saldana Is Seen Kissing New Boyfriend Marco Perego in Italy

By Kerri Sheehan

Actress Zoe Saldana jumped into summer love with her new beau Marco Perego. The two were spotted partaking in a little PDA in Perego's home country, Italy on May 27th. A source told UsMagazine.com, "They have an attraction, Marco is happy to be hanging out with her."

What are some ways to celebrate new love?

Cupid's Advice:

When love is in the air it's important to celebrate it with your partner. Cupid has some advice about how to do so:

1. Take a cooking class: Nothing is more attractive than a guy who can cook. Sign up for a class together so you can take turns wowing each other in the kitchen throughout the course of your relationship.

2. Volunteer together: Celebrating love is more than just celebrating with you and your partner. Give back to those less fortunate than you while spending some quality time with your lover.

3. Get cheesy: This is the time to pull out all the stops and get really sappy. If you've reached the love stage then it's clear that you both view the relationship as more than just a fling. Don't be afraid to do little things to show your partner you care such as sending them flowers, including them in your Facebook profile picture, and introducing them to your family.

How do you celebrate new love? Share below.