What are some factors that go into deciding your wedding location?

Cupid's Advice:

A wedding can be the most important day of your life. Let Cupid help you decide where to tie the knot:

1. Think numbers: A location depends heavily on how big of a wedding you want to have. If you're looking for a huge bash then having a destination wedding might not be feasible as many guest would not be able to attend.

2. Season is key: If you're looking for an outdoor wedding then the question of when will come into play just as much as the question of where. A winter wedding in New England may not fair too well and the same with a summer nuptial in the Arizona.

3. Family and friends: The closer the wedding is to your family and friends the more likely you'll get the turn out a wedding deserves. If most of your family lives in California, but you reside in New Jersey then you may want to consider walking down the aisle in The Golden State.
