How do you prepare for baby #2 differently than #1?

Cupid's Advice:

You might think you're a professional after having Baby #1, but there's some more tricks you have to learn before you know everything! Are you expecting to share your world with another bundle of joy? Cupid has some advice:

1. Get more stuff: It might seem like you have everything because of your first baby, but you don't. You could always use new and more stuff – especially if your babies are close in age. Reusing clothes is okay, but things such as car seats only last six years, so you might want to upgrade.

2. Make sure Baby #1 knows what's going on: Even if your first child is at the stage of not talking, they still need to be explained to what is going on. When you get Baby #1 on board, they'll be wary at first. You must prepare them for the changes that are about to ensue, but also make them feel secure and safe.

3. Share some loving with your man: Once Baby #2 comes you're both about to be SUPER busy. Take this time to have some date nights and use as much alone time as you can get! So hire that babysitter and make a reservation because now's the time for some romance!
