What do you do if your friends are not supportive of your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

When you are at a good place in your relationship with your partner and think you may have found 'the one' it is a major buzz kill when your friends don't think so and tell you things such as 'you can do better' and 'they're not right for you'. Support from your friends is something you need and want. Cupid has some advice on how to handle friends disapproving of your relationship:

1. Try to change their minds: Try to get your friends to see the positive sides of your relationship and see your 'love' the way you do. Explain to them how and why your honey makes you happy. Maybe arrange a time for you, your lovebird, and friends to get together and hangout to get to know each other better. Ask them to give your lover a chance to win their approval.

2. Take their thoughts into consideration: It is always best to listen to what your friends have to say. Tell your friends you will think about what they have told you. Who knows maybe they have valid points that you just didn't want to see. However, ultimately let them know the decision to remain a couple or not are entirely your choice as it is your life.

3. Agree to disagree or find new supportive friends: If in the end you can't change their opinions than either ignore them or find new friends to surround yourself with. Maybe they are not the right friends for you and you need to find pals who do respect your choices in partners. Your friends might have biased opinions. Don't let it affect your relationship as only you can decide what is right for you.
