Cupid's Advice:

You can change a diaper in under a minute, you can diagnose what's wrong by the type of crying you hear, and you've tried just about every method there is to get your baby to fall asleep. With the second baby on the way you know exactly how to prepare, because let's face it, you're basically an expert.

1. You aren't giving in to all of the baby hysteria: Yes, all of the gadgets are cool, but do you really need a rocking chair for every room and a teething ring in every color? Now you aren't worried about having the baby's next four years of outfits together, and you realize that you have more time than you thought. This saves you money and energy from not obsessing over whether or not you have everything you need for your second child to be comfortable.

2. You're more relaxed with your birthing plan: You've been through it once before, and everything turned out okay. You are less stressed out about whether or not your hubby has all of the right attire packed in the over-night-bag, and you aren't putting the poor guy through as many "The baby is coming!" preparation drills. You're calm, cool, and collective, like every mother of two should be (Right?).

3. You know what moments are the most significant: Now that you've been through the process you've been able to reflect on what moments need the most attention. The first bath, the welcome home, the first time they sit up. These moments you're going to be able to point out to their big brother or sister, so they too will see how awesome it is to have another little one around the house. This is also a bonding moment between you and your oldest because they realize they get to be Mommy's assistant, and serve as a role model for their new sibling.
