Celebrity couples have to worry about avoiding magazine covers, but how can you keep your new relationship and love from attracting rumors?

Cupid's Advice:

No one wants to be on the receiving end of bad gossip, but by word of mouth, rumors travel at lightening speed. And where rumors start, doubt and insecurities seem to follow. You don't need anyone sticking their nose in your business, so consider this dating advice to keep your relationship and love private!

1. Don't publicize your concerns in your relationship: In your relationship, there are only two people: you and your partner. That being said, everyone else's opinions on what may or may not be going on are irrelevant. There is no need for you to be sharing the intimate details of your relationship to anyone else. If something is going on, talk to your partner, not the world.

2. Never argue in front of anyone: In a relationship, you're supposed to put up a united front. Arguing in public will cause both eyebrows and tensions to raise. So if you and your man ever disagree, wait until you are alone to talk it out. Couples quarrel – it's natural and human, but you don't need to make it seem like that's all you do or that something is really wrong. If it can't wait until you get home, ask to see your partner in another room to quickly resolve the issue.

3. Don't participate in questionable behavior: If you're out with a group of your ladies and you're flirting with another group of guys, this can raise red flags to everyone around you. It's okay to socialize and be friendly...but not too friendly. The last thing you need is for anyone to question your faithfulness. You want your partner – as well as your friends – to think of you as trustworthy.
