By

Kristin Cavallari is a mommy again to her second son, Jax. From the day Cavallari and husband, Jay Cutler, brought their new baby home, Cavallari says that Cutler has been “incredibly hands-on.” Jax, born in May, is now 3-months-old and just starting to smile. Their first son, Camden Jack, is 2-years-old. Cavallari said, “Camden takes a nap at one o’clock, so when Camden’s going down, Jax is just waking up to eat and play, so there’s literally no time.” However, Cavallari is not alone in juggling her two boys. She spoke of her hubby to UsMagazine.com saying, “it’s so sweet seeing him with Camden and Jax, and there’s nothing sexier than seeing your husband as a great dad. I couldn’t ask for a better partner in this situation.” Best of luck to the burgeoning family!

What are some ways to support your partner in parenthood?

Cupid’s Advice:

1. Be loose with your schedule: You never know when your partner is going to need a break. Be willing to take this diaper change even if it’s not “your turn.” A few extra moments of peace go a long way, especially with new parents.

2. Make time to be a couple: To be good parents, you need to have a good relationship with your other half. Happy relationships can die if they’re not properly nurtured. So, call a baby-sitter, if only for a couple hours, and have some time for the love that brought your baby into the world.

3. Celebrate each other: You created a literal miracle together. That’s amazing! With each milestone, celebrate your child and don’t forget to celebrate the two people who made those milestones possible. It doesn’t have to be elaborate: a card or a kiss will do, but it’s something to enjoy.
