Cupid's Advice:

It can be difficult to decide how many children to bring into the world. Although Law and Harding just went through a celebrity break-up, the actor still wants to be involved in his fifth celebrity kid's life. It all comes down to the two people in the relationship and what they want for their life in the long run. Cupid has some ideas below to help you determine how many children to have:

1. Talk to your partner: Blood will always be thicker than water. Determine with your partner if you want to raise a huge family, just have one child, or not have any at all. The key here is to come to a mutual agreement. It's crucial to be on the same page as your spouse. Discuss how you can make it work if you don't plan for it and get pregnant anyways. It's also great to talk with your own family about the family you want to create!

2. Discuss your finances, health, and happiness: It's smart to map out all of your options and the factors that take a toll on the choices you make. Your financial stability and the state of your health and happiness play a huge role in determining how many children you want to have. Make sure that you can afford to have more children and that you have the room for them in your house and car. If you don't have the room, devise a plan to make it work if that's the outcome you want. You also want to welcome children into a healthy and happy environment.
