What do you do if you're jealous of something your partner is doing?

Cupid's Advice:

Being in a relationship means a great deal of sharing as well as sacrifice. But though you are in a loving and committed relationship, it doesn't mean you shouldn't have some time for yourself. But this time apart can sometimes lead to jealousy, so Cupid has some tips on how to escape the green-eyed monster:

1. Do something for yourself: If your partner is out with old friends or at a work happy hour and it is making you a little fussy, get up and do something just for you. Take a long walk and listen to your music or watch your favorite trashy shows that your partner can't stand while you have the opportunity.

2. Schedule time together: As you grow together sometimes the date nights or alone time gap grows too. Don't be afraid to put it on the books for a dinner out or a cozy night in, scheduling it doesn't make you a boring couple, it makes you a committed couple.

3. Talk it through: If the activities that your partner is partaking in make you jealous but also hurt your feelings or upset you make sure to talk to them about it. If these situations are frequent or purposeful you may want to evaluate why they are happening and how you can work through it together.
