Although the two remain friends, according to UsMagazine.com, "That same week, Kardashian told US there was 'no bad blood' between the exes. 'I love memories...and I still talk to him.' The feelings are mutual, Montana said Kardashian will be his "baby forever."

How do you know if you're ready for a serious relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

1. Committed: If you are truly devoted and committed to the person that you're with, then you are ready for it to be a serious relationship. If you see yourself staying with them for the rest of your lives, chances are you can take the relationship to the next level. It's one thing to have fun with people, but if you picture yourself with your significant other long terms – it's the real deal!

2. Secure: To be in a serious relationship you and your partner each need to be secure with yourselves and with the relationship. When people get insecure and self conscious, they are still working on themselves and need to take care of that before entering a 'serious' relationship. Once both parties involved are comfortable it's okay. When you're completely at ease with your partner and can truly be yourself, you know it can be a serious relationship.

3. Mature: To be in a serious relationship, both individuals need to be mature. (For the most part, anyway.) The actions, behaviors and mind sets of the individuals are a very important factor in deciding if it's time to take the relationship to the next level. If both people are on the right track in life, have goals and careers, share the same beliefs and feel ready – it's time to make it a serious relationship.
