Cupid’s Advice:

The beginning of a new relationship and love should be filled with joy and bliss. However, when your pals are unsupportive of your new partner, it can put a damper on your happiness. If you’re facing criticism like this celebrity couple, Cupid has some tips:

1. Introduce them: If your buddies haven't met your significant other yet, ask them to be open-minded until they get to know each other. If they've already been introduced and had a negative first impression, tell your buddies that it'd really mean a lot if they would give your beau a second chance. Encourage them to set judgments aside until they spend some quality time together.

2. Listen to their concerns: It may seem counterproductive, but it's important to ask your friends to explain their doubt to you. As much as you may want to ignore their criticism, giving them the chance to share their worries will go a long way. It'll help you understand where they're coming from, and it'll allow your pals to feel like they're being heard. Getting everything out in the open will help you all move forward in a graceful way.

3. Be honest: If all else fails, you need to have a heart-to-heart with your loved ones and open up about your new relationship. To help them understand how you feel, share the reasons why you want to be with your significant other and how they make you feel. If they truly love you (and they should!), seeing you so happy should be enough for them.
