The latest celebrity news and gossip has us all a little curious. According to UsMagazine.com, celebrity love birds George Clooney and Amal Alamuddin are installing a panic room in their England mansion. The famous couple spent their celebrity honeymoon in the home after tying the knot in September 2014, choosing to focus on their relationship and love life rather than a celebrity vacation. A source said that the panic room is not for Clooney's fans, but rather for his celebrity love's protection because of her high profile clients as a human-rights lawyer.

George Clooney wants to keep his celebrity love Amal safe at all costs. What are some ways to protect your loved one in everyday life?

Cupid's Advice:

Protecting your loved one does not always have to mean installing a panic room, like some Hollywood couples. If you want some dating and relationship advice, then be sure to protect your partner in emergencies as well as in everyday frustrations:

1. Be prepared for emergencies: Try and emulate what this married celebrity couple has done and be prepared for emergencies. If you live together, install a security system so you don't have to worry every time you go out of town. These protective measures will make you aware as a couple, so you're always prepared for the unexpected.

2. Check in regularly: When you and your honey are at work all day, or go out of town separately, make sure that you check in with them regularly, through texting and calling. There's no need to keep tabs on one another, but just make sure you know where your partner will be and call them every night to make sure they're safe.

3. Defend them: Sometimes you don't only need to protect your loved one from emergencies, but from the everyday people in their life. If you two are at a social gathering, or the family is putting pressure on them, defend your significant other and protect them from the judgment.
